Thank you for playing Zombie Tsunami This game is so good but the thing is the people lips like are so thick witch is terrible and the scratch thing like why not scratch one and that's it? You know you can scratch the middle and see what it is without getting the reward like I see X most of the time, and forces you too scratch it or not play the game and why the zombies eyes roll around really?? Its like disgusting to me or we'll not that much, too em prove this game the disgusting parts remove it about the zombies nahh don't need to, and like you see a car it has a person inside when the car is smashed, another person come out I mean you see a boy screaming smash the car and he turns into a girl, improve the game and the music too. The game is definitely fun but I have a gripe with the developers. They're very snarky in their email responses; and unlike other developers who offer assistance troubleshooting issues with their games, these guys either a) tell you tough luck or b) ignore you all together. I've lost more than 200 diamonds because of glitches in the system. In other games like Happy Street the developers will comp you what you lost - which is more than fair considering you're spending actual money on the in-game currency. I shouldn't have to be writing dissertations in order to get back what I've unfairly lost. And yet I must. And they fall on deaf ears. Furthermore, good luck on getting any actual zombirds worth their salt. I've spent more than 10,000 diamonds on what has essentially amounted to crap. At least in other games your chances of acquiring a legendary figure are pretty fair. This one obviously wants you to spend a buttload to do that. And even then it doesn't happen. There's a few things that NEED to be upgraded to make the game BETTER! When I win items on a scratch card I want to be able to CHOOSE WHEN I USE IT. (double coins, coins car, coins bombs, second life, group of civilians, etc.) the game currently forces the prize to be used in the VERY. NEXT. GAME. Not Cool. Also there's a glitch while playing where the zombies speed will go from super fast to unbearably slow, and it makes me want to delete the app entirely because it happens to me a lot. And it makes the game super horrible. There's also a glitch on the end game screen and makes the noise of the brains counter going, but it can't/won't load the screen.... I have to close the app, and usually the brains have been counted but it's not good being scared that you just lost 87 brains while you close the game and re-open it.. please fix these problems and I'll tell my friends that the app's privacy practices may include handling of data as described below. We'll see you in the neighborhood in-game... or the zombies will have your brainz! Years ago, Plants vs. Zombies defined a genre with its fresh concept, undeniable charm, and innovative, balanced gameplay. Now the undead have risen again, bringing with them new time-traveling tales and a massive slew of new zombies and plants. Whether you stomp enemies without paying a dime or buy new experimental plants and power-ups with In-App Purchases, the result is the same: an incredible sequel that's fresh and fun throughout, reminding us why we fell in love with this world in the first place. I love this game and I've been playing it for a number of years. Changes over the years with the continuous addition of new plants helps to keep things fresh, fun and engaging. I rarely leave reviews anywhere, but a relatively recent glitch has me writing one now. It has to do with playing Arena challenges. Every so often (but often enough that this is really becoming an issue), right in the middle of the game, the app just shuts down and kicks me off of the platform. And what ends up happening then is I lose the gauntlet required to play that game, and also the satisfaction of knowing whether or not I was actually lost, and I also then don't receive whatever prize I would have received for that game's win. And as there's no way to recoup that particular game or gauntlet, it just kind of feels like a rip off, tiny though it is. Over time, those small rip offs add up, you know? And the overall effect is....irritating, to say the least. I wish the developers would address this bug. I'm sure enough money is being made by them without having to nickel and dime loyal players here and there. Then this game would have my full-throated endorsement of a true 5 star game. It is super entertaining and I'm kind of addicted. But.. there has been a little bit of problems. 1. Whenever you update the game and add a plant, there is a load data part that takes 10 minutes, which can result in devices overheating and losing battery. 2nd. The game has too much adds, can you make it every 5 levels you get one add? And lastly, the game doesn't get any new maps added in it. This is making me sad because I wanted plants like scarcely shroom and umbrella leaf to return. But alas, the game is very fun. Also, why is Chomper a premium plant that costs money, but torch wood and hot date are not? That's kind of weird. Also, can you make snow pea a non- premium? I would say you could put it in the castle map. Also, Star fruit should cost gems, and squash should be buffed. Also, why is laser beam doing more damage than bloomerang when 1. Laser beam can hit every zombie in the game, but bloomerang can't. 3. Laser beam only costs 200 sun for what it does? Why doesn't bloomerang can't. 3. Laser beam can hit every zombie in one lane, and bloomerang can't. 3. Laser beam can hit every zombie in the game, but bloomerang can't. 3. Laser beam can hit every zombie in one lane, and bloomerang can't. 3. Laser beam can hit every zombie in one lane, and bloomerang can't. 3. Laser beam can bloomerang can't. 3. Laser beam c beam cost 250? Also, Why does tile turnip go all the way up to 10K when I don't even have it up to one lane yet? And a suggestion: can you make Twin sunflower 100 sun?
